P020200612	The property currently has a 60" wide by 47" deep deck plus three steps down as plat survey shows. While it is attached to the house it is supported in the front by an old cement porch. The owner would like a 10' wide by 50" plus three steps down, steps will be in the same current position as plat survey. I was going to add a 48" deep sono tube 6" diameter cement column on both sides of the deck and fasten the joists to a header board fastened to the house. For the 60" over the old cement porch I was going to cut the joists to a depth of approx 4" they would rest on the old structure and shimmed if needed. This area would be 12" on center and the rest would be 16" on center. * PRE- POUR & FINAL INSPECTION REQUIRED	$2,175.00	$250.00	06/08/2020	ABC Exterior Services LLC

Technically, this property owner needs to rezone the property to R1 Single-Family Residence before the addition can be approved. I'm not going to force the rezoning, but when it comes to refinancing or selling the home, the property owner may run into problems if he/she maintains the CR zoning.	$13,050.00	$616.00	07/06/2020	Mendez Garage Door & Const
